Statement by the Board of INSETA

Over the past weeks INSETA has been the subject of discussion in some quarters of the insurance sector and in the media. This was as a result of the allegations of corruption which were levelled against INSETA. As the Board, we view these allegations in a serious light and we are committed to addressing all the allegations with the utmost diligence.

To this end, the Board at its Special meeting of the 22nd February 2024, resolved to commission an independent forensic investigation to look into all the allegations and reach finality to the matter.

We remain resolute in ensuring that INSETA fulfills its role of being an AUTHORITY for development of skills within the insurance industry.
