INSETA RESPONDS TO OUTA PICKETING

We note the protest held outside INSETA offices on 5 August 2025 by the Organisation Undoing Tax Abuse (OUTA), in relation the allegations of corruption and maladministration against INSETA. These allegations are not only baseless, but they are intentionally meant to discredit the organisation and its leadership.

As a schedule 3A public entity, INSETA has consistently complied with all legal requirements regarding information disclosure and procurement, and the bids referred to were awarded in line with the applicable legislation, policies, and procedures. We remain committed to accountability, transparency, and good governance, while fulfilling our mandate to facilitate skills development in the insurance sector.

It is unfortunate that this sustained smear campaign against INSETA and its leadership appears to be fuelled by disgruntled parties whose intentions are driven by miopic interests.

We remain committed to impacting the lives of many through our impactful programmes.
